Perfect for under the tree!

Whether you are just finishing up your Christmas shopping, or just getting started, don't forget to stop by the Museum gift shop. Our gift shop is run by dedicated museum volunteers. Stop in and say hello if you are in the area. You will find hundreds of great gifts and hobby ideas suitable for any occasion.

Remember when quality and customer service were number one? This is our philosophy, and in the spirit of days gone by, we stock a variety of old fashioned toys, candy and confections. Memories of childhoods long ago are brought back to life with our selection of quality gifts, while new childhood memories are created every day, @discoverynorthbay.

This photo shows our smallest model engine chugging away in our gift shop. Peek in the frosty windows and you will catch a glimpse. This kit comes complete with a locomotive engine, tender, 3 box cars, a caboose, a train trestle, telegraph poles and speed control. The kit contains everything you need to have a train running under your tree at Christmas. It assembles in 5 minutes (honestly!)

The HO gauge set seen here is available in CPR and CNR sets available for only $59.95 only at Discovery North Bay Museum.

Sunlight and Water at the Museum

Did you know that the White Water Gallery, one of North Bay's great arts and culture organization, is moving? While they prepare their new gallery space, the Museum will be hosting an amazing White Water Gallery exhibition by artist Chris Johnston. The exhibition, "Sunlight and Water" is derived from the artist's interest in the physics of light, astronomy and creation theory, and the pervasiveness of water and light in the landscape of North Bay.

Installed in the bright, sun drenched upper gallery of the Museum overlooking Lake Nipissing, we don't think that there could be more appropriate setting for this exhibit! Take in the show until Dec 20th, 2008.

Holiday Hours at Discovery North Bay

Please note, the museum will be closed on December 24th, 25th and 26th. After boxing day, we will resume normal operating hours with the exception of a closure on New Year's Day.
